

PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP (PwC)

About us

PwC is a global network of firms in 150 countries with an extensive record in international development. PwC has successfully delivered diverse projects in challenging and hostile environments such as Afghanistan, Bosnia Herzegovina, Democratic Republic of Congo, East Timor, Iraq, Liberia, Rwanda, Sierra Leone, Somalia and Sudan. We have delivered many of these projects in association with DFID and other donors.

PwC has built a strong team of specialist organisations under the Public Administration Reform framework in order to meet the precise needs of the commissioning departments and the particular demands of each framework assignment. We work together to bring complementary expertise and skills to our services. Our partnering organisations are:

Channel Research	Channel conducts consultancy and training in conflict sensitive approaches, conducting feasibility studies, baseline surveys, public consultations, evaluations and impact assessments in high risk environment. .
Control Risks	A global risk consultancy with 28 worldwide offices. It works in the most challenging and complex environments helping governments, NGOs and international business meet their objectives.
Dege Consulting	A niche consultancy practice based in Tanzania focusing on public sector reform (specialising in decentralisation issues) in developing countries for enhanced service delivery, particularly for the poor.
FRR	Part of the IDL Group, FRR, is a leading UK-based forestry and institutional reform consultancy focuses on institutional development and the management of natural resource concessions and revenue.
Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit	The GTZ has over 130 worldwide operations including Afghanistan, DRC, and Palestine. It is the primary implementing agency for the German government's international development programme.
International Procurement Agency BV (IPA)	The IPA provides independent procurement, supply and consultancy services to developing and transitional economies, in conflict-affected environments such as Bosnia, Liberia, Rwanda, Sierra Leone and Sudan.
Mokoro	Mokoro brings expertise in: management of public resources; new approaches to aid management; governance and decentralisation; sector policy and planning; economic policy and strategy; and land reform.
National School of Government	The NSG is the UK government's centre for learning and one of the world's leading schools of public administration. It provides strategic advice, building capacity in governance and administrative reform.
Synergy Global	Synergy Global is a sustainable development consultancy with particular expertise in extractive industries, focussing on social assessment, organisational development, stakeholder engagement and review and audit.
Tiri	Tiri works with governments, business, civil society and international organisations in integrity and anticorruption. Tiri works to develop networks, build capacity, and assess corruption and integrity in aid and state administration.

Together we offer an unrivalled scope of expertise in reforming institutions, combined with the operational capacity and team approach to manage and lead this framework agreement. Under this framework, we also have:

- Self sufficient processes for deployment to the most hostile environments and the resources to organise logistics in-country and to provide full backstopping support;
- High standards of quality assurance, which match or exceed BS or ISO accreditation and rigorous project, programme and financial management tools and expertise.
- Personnel with the experience, linguistic skills and cultural sensitivity necessary to work effectively in the environments in which assignments under this framework may be implemented.

PwC is also a holder of DFID's Governance, Justice and Peacebuilding framework, enabling us to closely coordinate our work.

Our experience

Together our organisations design, manage and assess complex public administration reform programmes in many conflict-affected environments. Some highlights of our extensive work include:

- The NSG's support to civil service reform in Afghanistan, delivering advice to the Afghan Interim Authority on reforming the machinery of government, ministry restructuring and strengthening of policymaking capacity.
- Tiri's 'Network for Integrity in Reconstruction', which builds integrity in post-war reconstruction in countries such as Afghanistan, Bosnia Herzegovina, Kosovo, Lebanon, Palestine, Sierra Leone, and East Timor;
- IPA's procurement work in Bosnia, Liberia, Rwanda, Sierra Leone and Sudan, supporting the re-establishment of institutions in key sectors such as safety and security, and public health.
