

The Fragile States Development Consortium

Cutting edge competencies

Special qualities of our consortium

- Ability to rapidly access high quality international and local consultants through in-house staff or large external network (including country offices)- and to mobilise and supervise consultants to work in English, French, Spanish, Portuguese, and Arabic
- Concrete experience of managing framework agreements from a range of development agencies through dedicated in-house teams
- Practical knowledge of design and implementation of development programmes and provision of high-quality strategic policy advice, research, and analysis
- Work with civil society and with UK diplomatic, development and military personnel
- Ability to deliver first quality consultants with sector specific technical expertise, conflict management and social development competencies
- QA procedures tailormade to the Consortium, informed by COWI's Quality Management System
